

10 THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

Hi there,

In an effort to answer the vast variety of reader questions I've created a list of things I want you to be aware of. I hope you find it useful.

1. If you can't locate a book you're looking for... check my website. You can also find a downloadable/printable reading order guide for books in The Bloodline Series, so you can check off books as you finish them.

Here is the link: <http://www.lyndareesauthor.com>

To purchase use this link: <https://amazon.com/author/lyndarees>

2. New releases, sales and freebies are broadcast every few weeks to my VIP Group at: <http://eepurl.com/cTtS09> . Don't miss out on the FREE stuff. Certain information is also shared on social media. I can be reached at the following sites, but I'm least frequently on Pinterest. No worries, I'll get there.

3. If you like a book or author, the best thing you can do for them is to post a review after reading. It's easy and simple. You can get a FREE step by step guide, one page instruction sheet at my website. Nothing impacts sales and how Amazon features an author's books like reader reviews. Please review. It's simple, takes 2-3 minutes, and means so much. Type one or two lines why you like the book.

Copy/paste it to the following links. Thank you for your reviews.

5. After I wrote Parsley, Sage, Rose, Mary & Wine, first of the The Bloodline Series, fans kept asking for more backstory about a character; so I wrote a novella prequel providing more detail about Deputy Leah's life before she started over in Sweetwater, surrounded by Kentucky horse farms. Get Leah's Story* FREE starting 3/6/19 at the following link. <https://amazon.com/author/lyndarees>

6. I have two books that will soon be available for preorder. Real Money features a new character, real estate agent Chloe Roberts, who returns to her hometown after her fiancé's mysterious disappearance. Chloe's in store for more shocks as she rebuilds her life and business in Sweetwater.

In The Bourbon Trail, Eva Robert's affair with a questionable bourbon entrepreneur leads to murder and discoveries concerning the Roberts family heritage astonishing daughter, Chloe, Eva and the Sweetwater community. Watch your email for alerts when preorder is available. Here's a cover preview.

7. I'm currently writing four others and need your help. A blurb about the story is below. eMail suggestions to lyndareesauthor@gmail.com

Zoe and Gabe, misfit kids finding solace in their bond, are forced apart as their lives take different directions. Sorrow and fate bring the security guard and mother and the Special Forces Officer together. Lasting friendship matures into love that might prove fatal, as they're suspected of murder.

What name would you give it? I'll announce the cover, title and winner of an eBook of your choice from my published works. Thanks for your assistance.

8. I have three non-fiction books coming soon. Watch your email and social media for preorder when they're available. The first is a how-to manual for purchasing a home in today's volatile market. The second explains how the average person can become a millionaire by buying real estate. The third is a racing book explaining how to bet the horses. Stay tuned for alerts when they're coming out.

9. I've provided a FREE downloadable goal setting, yearly planner for you. Get it here: <https://amazon.com/author/lyndarees>

10. Last, but not least by any means; I adore my readers and appreciate you more than you can know. Your support of me and my books means so much. Writing is an isolated mission, which would be terribly lonesome if it weren't for my incredible readers making the chore worth it with infinite thirst for more. My dream career is possible because of you. Thank you.
